The seller will give a reimbursement for any OFA certifications, genetic health testing (through Optimal Selection, additional panels through different companies will not be reimbursed) and titles that the dog receives. The reimbursement amount will be 5.5% of the fees paid. Original receipts will be forwarded to the seller, after the seller has received the receipts they will contact you to discuss reimbursement methods. The genetic health testing is subject to change, there is a lot of research going on and new tests are added to companies sometimes, right now Optimal Selection is the best panel for Border Collies, if that changes the contract may change as well.
